

to secure Web servers. Solutions exist, but costs may be prohibitive to most Indian government organisations."

After three attacks in three days, the army's website was forced to upgrade the security on their server. Said B G Mahesh, who runs the information site, www.mahesh.com, "What the hacker did was hardly high-tech

